

Crisis Intervention for Communications Class

Basic Crisis Intervention and Verbal De-Escalation for Communications Staff (BCI-COMM)

This is an 8-hour class intended for civilian telecommunications employees. It has been formulated to address phone-based crisis de-escalation and mental health awareness training for the communications staff member or the 911 operator. The course is designed to teach effective information gathering skills through basic communication and de-escalation approaches. Our goal is to teach participants to manage and slow down any form of crisis in order to give first responders time to arrive on scene. The Strategic Advantage philosophy of crisis management will be discussed and emphasized. The course is completed in a one-day block with a hands-on scenario component that lasts approximately three hours.

Advanced Crisis Intervention and Verbal De-Escalation for Communications Staff (ACI-COMM)

This is a 16-hour class for advanced or previously trained civilian telecommunications employees. It has been designed to further address the nuances of phone-based crisis de-escalation and mental health awareness training for the communications staff member or the 911 operator. The course is designed to further enhance effective information gathering skills through basic communication and de-escalation approaches. The Strategic Advantage philosophy of crisis management will be covered in depth. The course is completed in a two-day block with a six-hour hands-on (participant involved) scenario and experiential component being incorporated into the instruction.

House Bill 93 In-Service and Biennial Training for Communications Staff

This is a 4-hour class designed to meet the requirement mandated by NM HB-93 that all emergency communications staff complete training in crisis intervention every two years. The content will include general phone-based crisis de-escalation and a mental health update. The class includes a short hands-on scenario component and will revisit the concepts of active listening and the Strategic Advantage approach to crisis management.

All class instructors will be current law enforcement officers, police psychologists, mental health providers, telecommunications experts, and retired law enforcement officers with extensive expertise and experience in verbal de-escalation and crisis management.

All Classes are NMDPS NMLEA Accredited.

They also meet & exceed the mandatory requirements for HB-93 telecommunicator biennium training.
